

Frequently, biblical writers use the words “worship the Lord” and “serve the Lord” interchangeably. How are these two things similar? How are they different?

Why do you think the biblical picture of worship is always spiritual, mental, emotional, and physical?

Taking It Home

How would living a lifestyle of worship help you become more aware of God’s presence in your life?

Based on Sunday’s message and this study guide, what are ways that your worship life could grow? How would that affect your worship on a Sunday morning?

If we are going to live as constant worshippers, we must find ways to worship in the midst of our daily life. Write down three ways that you could become a more consistent worshipper in your daily life.

For the week of February 13, 2011

Getting Started

As you reflect on Sunday's message, what one principle or insight stands out as being particularly helpful, insightful, or difficult to grasp?

What are habits or routines you have in your life to help you stay balanced and/or focused?

How would you describe "worship" in your life during your childhood years? As a teen?

Digging Deeper

On Sunday, Nolan challenged us to become people who live a life of worship. Our study this week will help us investigate what that looks like in daily life.

Read Genesis 24:22-27, 47-52. What drove the man (Abraham's servant) in the story to "bow down" and "worship?"

Do you think his response was just due to the culture he lived in or due to his desire and affection for God? Explain.

Describe someone you have encountered that worked to incorporate consistent worshiping God into their daily life? How did people respond to them?

Read these passages and jot down things you notice about worship:

- 2 Chronicles 7:19-22
- Psalm 95:1-7
- Matthew 4:8-10
- Philippians 2:9-11

Based on these texts, what do you think causes people to worship?
